PURE FOOD SHOW CLOSED WITH BIG BURST OF SUCCESS

Even Cold Weather Did Not Prevent Last Night's Success.

The crowd began to pack the County hall very early on the last night of the Pure Food Show. The estimated number in attendance yesterday equaled the second day. On account of the bad weather, the crowd was not as large as expected, but those who attended found many new things to interest them.

The exhibitors were pleased and feel that this year's show was a wonderful success. Already plans are being made for next year's Food Show, and it is hoped that a big community building will be had by that time. This morning the exhibitors were busy tearing down the beautiful displays and moving their exhibits back to their shelves in their stores. The exhibitors did not bring in food supplies for the purpose of making a beautiful display, but every article that was in the Food Show is carried in stock by the Dixon merchants. They wanted the people of Dixon to know that Good Food Stuffs could be purchased in Dixon and anything that could be purchased anywhere could be purchased here, as one man said this morning. "Advertising is a necessity, but there is only one kind, truthful advertising to inspire confidence," and that is the main idea that we wish to leave with the people, that we have only shown what we actually carry in our stores. Again the Goddess of Supplies appeared and a great many people were rewarded for battling the bad weather and attending the show on the last night.

Attorney Scott Speaker.

Ex-Judge Scott of the County Court gave a few very impressive remarks about supporting the Home Town merchants. He emphasized the fact that the local merchants stood behind you at all times, and that the people should stand behind them and not send their money out of town. He said that in any emergency the local men assisted the people and it was the duty of the people of Dixon and this community to back the merchants at all times. Darby orchestra played throughout the evening and many comments were heard about the wonderful music. The Goddess distributed her wares to the following:

New Processes for Making Fertilizer Have Been Developed

Washington, Jan. 25.—A proposal for the manufacture of fertilizers at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, under processes designed to reduce its cost to farmers to "less than half" the present prices, has been worked out by three experts in association with the three southern power companies which have offered $100,000,000 for a fifty year lease on the government's war time project.

The proposal, prepared for submission to Secretary Weeks today as a supplement to the lease offer, contemplates formation of a $5,500,000 corporation to manufacture up to 50,000 tons of fertilizer annually at nitrate plant number 1, the rental for which will be fixed by congress and included by the company in the production cost.

Safety Council Makes Suggestions to Avoid Many Traffic Mishaps

Chicago, Jan. 25.—The National Safety Council today, in announcing 15,000 deaths were caused in the United States during 1923 by automobiles, outlined three recommendations. They are:

That traffic movement along main arteries and subsidiary channels be studied and regulations be made so that traffic distribution and control may be made effective.

That city "spot" maps, showing the place of every traffic accident be made so that local centers of hazard may be identified and proper treatment of conditions prescribed.

That the intelligent cooperation of every user of the streets be obtained through community organization and education.

WILD TALE OF HOLD UP EAST OF TOWN TOLD

Man Says Three Black Men Held Him Up; May Be Crazy.

Telling a weird story of having been held up by three negroes on the Lincoln Highway between Dixon and Natchusa early yesterday morning, an unknown man walked to Franklin Grove before he reported the matter. Sheriff Risley was notified of the affair last night about 7:30 o'clock by Mayor Johnston of the village. The tale was too disconnected to be given much credence by the sheriff and no investigation was made.

The young man who is believed to have escaped from the Dixon state colony about noon yesterday walked into Franklin Grove yesterday afternoon and said that he was employed as a coffee salesman. He said that he had been stopped on the highway east of Dixon near Natchusa by three negroes, held up and robbed and his car taken from him. He remained in the village until this morning and was released. Sheriff Risley believed that the man had escaped from some institution and advised that he be held until this morning. A young man answering the description escaped from the state colony about noon yesterday and is being looked for.

APPOINTMENT OF DR. SWINGLEY IS POPULAR IN OGLE

Dixon Man, Named as Co. Veterinarian, Native of Ogle.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Byron—Supervisors in the twenty-six townships of Ogle county are circulating blanks among farmers this week which will provide a basis for the work of the county veterinarian who enters on his duties March 1.

At the September meeting of the county board of supervisors, an appropriation of $4,000 was made for the office of county veterinarian, who was to be a licensed "state man," with authority to test cattle for tuberculosis. The tests were to be made free of charge to the farmers.

No appointment was made at that time and the Ogle County Farm Bureau, the County Tuberculosis society and several women's club organizations adopted resolutions calling for the board to appoint a veterinarian at their December meeting. The board complied with their request and appointed Dr. S. W. Swingley, of Dixon, to assume duties March 1, 1924.

Is Ogle Co. Native

This appointment met with general satisfaction throughout the county as Dr. Swingley is an Ogle county product, having been born and raised in Rockvale township and is also recognized as an authority in his chosen profession.

The blanks now being circulated will serve a double purpose. First they will give the county official an idea of the number of milk cattle in the county that have not been subjected to the tuberculin test. They will also serve as a form of contract which the farmer must enter into in order to derive the benefit resultant from the legislation.

In order to comply with the provision of the law relative to tuberculin tests on cattle, a farmer must purchase no animals from herds that have not been inspected for tuberculosis by a state or federal veterinarian. In addition to this, all newly purchased animals must be segregated from the balance of the herd for a period of thirty days after the time of purchase. If a dairyman complies with these provisions and tuberculosis is found in his herd, he is entitled to an indemnity of two-thirds of the appraised value of the animals condemned as being infected with the disease.

A strict adherence to these rules and frequent tests of herds, will, in the opinion of many dairymen, stamp out tuberculosis among the dairy herds of the county.

Is Dairy Center

Ogle county is rapidly coming to the front as a dairy center. The large plants at Oregon, Byron and other towns have provided a good market for milk. The land, especially in townships near the river is ideal for pasture and general dairy farming. These facts make the appointment of a county veterinarian a live question. Some dairymen who have had valuable herds condemned are enthusiastically in favor of the veterinary service while other dairymen seem to be opposed to it.

The plan will grow more popular as it is tried out, according to the opinion of D. J. Warren, Ogle County Farm Bureau. While Mr. Warren was on duty in Lee county, a county veterinarian was employed there and hundreds of herds tested. The results there are said to be most satisfactory.

Dr. Swingley will work under the jurisdiction of a very competent committee selected from J. J. Vetter, of Marion township, Frank Wilson, of Woodstock and Frank D. Linn, of Egypt.

REMOVAL OF ALL SUCH DEVICES IS COMMANDED TODAY

Complains of Children Playing Them Cause of His Decree.

The death knell for slot machines that have been making their appearance throughout the city was sounded about 11:30 o'clock this morning when Mayor Frank D. Palmer issued orders that will result in their absolute eradication. Complaints that have been received of children spending money in penny and nickel machines, brought about the order.

About two weeks ago several nickel slot machines were placed about the city. The machines were to dispense a package of mints for every nickel spent in them and slugs were redeemed in trade in the places where they were stationed. In some instances, it has been reported, no mints have been dispensed for several days and the proposition has been brought to the attention of the city officials.

Mayor Palmer in issuing the order this morning stated that the nickel machines had been represented to him to be more in the order of vending machines but that upon investigation, following complaints, he was satisfied that they were not needed in Dixon. Some penny machines supposed to vend gum were included in the mayor's order.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Ida L. Hughes today was sentenced to be hanged March 14 following her conviction by a jury last night of the murder of her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. C. Hughes. She was visibly affected. Sentence was pronounced by Judge Howard.

Mrs. Hughes was charged with shooting her mother-in-law, as the elderly woman stooped over a trunk in Mrs. Ida Hughes' home last month, searching for articles she claimed belonged to her. The trial of Frank Hughes, indicted jointly with his wife, began immediately.

Mrs. Hughes is the fifth woman in the history of Georgia sentenced to hang.

Two were hanged for murder, while the sentences of the other two were commuted to life.

Nephew of Infamous Belle Gunness Held for Alleged Bigamy

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Adolph Gunness, 25-year-old nephew of Mrs. Belle Gunness, upon whose farm at La Porte, Ind., the remains of ten suitors were found in 1908, has been brought here to face trial on charges of bigamy.

Gunness made the statement that Belle Gunness, believed to have perished with her three children when her home burned near La Porte in 1908, was his aunt, according to the police.

Gunness was arrested at Madison, Wis., Wednesday, where he is said to have been virtually without funds although his second wife, Mrs. Anna Furpasso who says he married her July 20, 1923, alleges he left with $1,400 of her money. He was shell-shocked and gassed during the World War. She said she later learned he had a wife, Ella Gunness in Wisconsin to whom he was married January 19, 1920, and from whom he had not been divorced.

Farmer Alleges He Was Attacked and His Farm Set Afire

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Warrensburg, Mo., Jan. 25.—Charles T. Markham was nearing recovery in a hospital today and authorities were investigating his story that he was attacked Tuesday night by four men who, he declared, set fire to his farm here.

Markham was found in his yard with his house and barn in flames. He declared he had been tortured by four assailants who bent his back in an attempt to make him reveal the whereabouts of his wife. The men fired his house and barn and left him in the blazing house, he said. He asserted he finally dragged himself outside.

Markham had two fire insurance policies issued recently.

WIGGINS' CASE IS PUZZLE TO HIS PHYSICIAN

Found Apparently Dead Yesterday; Seems Normal.

Arthur Wiggins, who was apparently lifeless for 45 minutes early yesterday morning, is able to sit up today in his bed at the Dixon public hospital and has almost entirely recovered. He will be kept under close surveillance for several days, however, while a study of his case, which is said to be most unusual, is being made.

Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock he suffered a slight relapse and it was thought he was about to enter into another stage of unconsciousness, but he rallied in a few minutes and was quite normal again. Dr. C. H. Bokhof, who attended young Wiggins, was unable at noon today to make a complete statement.

Indicating that the case was a most unusual one to the medical profession, for which there was no apparent cause, the physician gave out as his opinion that the man was suffering from a cataleptic condition, adding that otherwise he was perfectly normal and healthy.

Young and Ten Dry Raiders Are Held

BULLETIN.

Marion, Ill., Jan. 25.—S. G. Young, dry worker, who has been leading wholesale raids in Williamson county, is a paid employee of the local Ku Klux Klan, Cyclops Sam Sterns said in an address today. Mr. Sterns, who also is chairman of the county board of supervisors, explained Young was hired on the basis of "so much per day and expenses," but did not reveal Young's salary.

Marion, Ill., Jan. 25.—Glenn Young, dry worker, and ten of his assistants charged with assault in connection with the recent dry raids in Williamson County waived preliminary hearing when the cases were called yesterday. The cases will go to the grand jury.

The raids already have cost $5,000. Mr. Sterns continued and $2,000 more is needed to continue the work.

He asserted both county and state officials refused to act in denying the county, so a delegation went to Washington and obtained federal aid and there came in contact with Young.

The money spent has been put up by Klansmen. Mr. Sterns declared, "who were not financially able to do it as they were working only two and three days a week."

Mr. Sterns said they have not "fined" as far and intended to back Young to the end.

John Whiteside, a local automobile dealer, stated they had the "boot-leggers on the run" but wanted to give them "their coats and hats so they will not return."

ENROLLMENT IN DIXON HIGH HAS INCREASED 43 PER CENT DURING SIX YEARS, NEW FIGURES PROVE

Cause of Conditions Which Drew Harsh Remarks from Aurora Educator at Recent Meeting of Dixon Kiwanians.

In a talk before the Kiwanis Club of Dixon a short time ago Prof. K. D. Waldo, principal of the Aurora schools, made some rather pointed allusions to the Dixon school system. His criticism was, on the face of it, harsh, and has given rise to much speculation as to its justification.

Upon inquiry, the Evening Telegraph has gathered some facts and figures that bear upon this subject and that seem to show the principal and underlying cause for a situation here and in many other cities for a condition in the schools that permit such unfavorable criticism.

No blame can be attached to any individual nor to the school administration for the natural development of the present situation.

Tremendous Growth.

Since the close of the war the housing problem of the students in the public schools has each year become more and more complex. In the larger cities, as Chicago and Cleveland this problem has been met in two ways, namely, by running school in shifts of half-day sessions and the erection of temporary structures to meet these emergencies.

This condition is due primarily to two causes: The check and complete stoppage by the war of the building programs that normally obtain and the increased enrollment in the high schools all over the country.

These same conditions exist in Dixon and especially in the high schools, both of which are overcrowded. The assembly room in the South building has 210 seats, and the North 128 or a total of 338, yet the registration in both high schools at present is 511.

The following table shows the total enrollment and per cent of increase in both the high schools and elementary schools of Dixon for the last six years:

Year	High School Total Enrollment	Percent
1918-19	357
1919-20	415	14 gain
1920-21	440	6 gain
1921-22	423	4 loss
1922-23	482	14 gain
1923-24	511	6 gain
Gain for 6 years 43.1 percent.
Year	Grade and High Schools Total Enrollment	Percent
1918-19	1455
1919-20	1466	0.8 gain
1920-21	1543	5 gain
1921-22	1572	1 gain
1922-23	1658	5 gain
1923-24	1702	3 gain
Gain for 6 years 17 percent.

The above figures will indicate that the gain in enrollment has presented a problem in the grades but a bigger one in housing the high school students. Every available space is being utilized and if the gain in the next six years is to be anything like that of the last six some solution will have to be determined.

RESTORATION OF AGRICULTURE IS JENKINS' ISSUE

Geneseo Progressive Opens Campaign to U. S. Senator.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Geneseo, Ill., Jan. 25.—Restoration of American agriculture is the paramount issue before the country today, Newton Jenkins, "progressive" republican candidate for the United States senate, declared last night in opening his primary campaign.

"I shall make the race upon a platform of progressive principles," he said.

"The ruinous deflation policy instituted by certain big metropolitan bankers in 1920 has paralyzed agriculture throughout the United States. No such deed can go unwhipped of justice in America. There are those who would minimize and mitigate the results, but the truth remains that the disaster in agriculture has perhaps cost the farmers of Illinois two and a half billion dollars or an average of $10,000 per farm. The farm families of the country have demanded that those responsible for this program be driven from power."

Characterizing transportation as the national problem of second importance he urged "an honest attempt to preserve the interests of all concerned," and added:

"The Esch-Cummins law of 1920 should be either repealed or amended."

The federal government should adopt a far-reaching program of agricultural relief based on a stabilization of commodity prices, Jenkins declared.

Death of King Ben's Son Will Not Alter Faith of Followers

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Benton Harbor, Mich., Jan. 25.—Death is the result of sin, according to the teachings of Benjamin Purnell, founder and missing head of the House of David here, but should his son, Coy Purnell, die, it would not affect the faith of members of the cult, according to those outside the colony familiar with its teachings. The son is seriously ill.

But Coy Purnell shined, his father's teachings say, for some years ago he married a woman not a member of the colony. Thus in a colony where death is regarded as a disgrace and those who die are buried outside the colony in unmarked graves, unmourned, the illness of the founder's son, if it proves fatal, may be taken merely as a substantiation of the teachings of the cult.

The Wolverines however, have Minnesota to play at Ann Arbor and may have a difficult tussle to come out with a victory.

The Chicago Wisconsin contest is furnishing most interest.

USE OF RADIO IN MINE SAFETY WORK URGED BY MEETING

Delegates in Convention Give Officers Power to Act.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 25.—(By The Associated Press)—Full powers to investigate possibilities of radio in saving lives in mine disasters, was vested in the international officers of the United Mine Workers of America by a resolution adopted at the convention today.

Recent experiments carried on at Scranton, Pa., demonstrated the practicality of radio being operated successfully underground, thus indicating the possibility of saving human lives by its use," the resolution said. It was explained that in the Scranton experiments it was possible to operate a radio receiving set successfully 1,000 feet underground.

The debate centered largely around a resolution introduced by a Kentucky local union, condemning the Taylorville, Illinois, sub district convention for its alleged condemnation of President John L. Lewis, because the autonomy of district number 19 which embraces Tennessee was cancelled. The resolution in its original form also demanded that William Deak, president of the Taylorville, sub district and the other officers of the convention apologize to President Lewis and that Duncan Macdonald, former president of district number 12 (Illinois) who now publishes a labor paper, be denied the floor, but this part was stricken out.

President Deak of the sub district denied that the convention had ever passed a resolution condemning President Lewis.

Mellon Renewed His Defense of Tax Bill in Letter to Couzens

Washington, Jan. 25.—Secretary Mellon today renewed his defense of his tax proposals in another open letter to Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan.

The Michigan senator had challenged Mr. Mellon to tell what effect the Mellon plan would have on the lives of personal taxes. The secretary's reply did not mention that subject, but again inquired whether the present high surtax rates had not impeded Mr. Couzens to invest largely in tax exempt securities.

Mr. Mellon also disregarded the senator's challenge to a debate.

"Your case is not unique," wrote the secretary. "There are many other men in similar situation. Your case is of interest solely as an illustration."

Mr. Mellon denied he had abandoned his proposition that high surtaxes were becoming less productive.

Secretary Mellon also wrote to Representative Moore, democrat, Virginia, favoring enactment of legislation which would require taxpayers to state in their income tax returns what tax exempt securities they hold and their character.

The members of the South Dixon Community club and their families held their annual get-together meeting and picnic supper at the home of the president, Mrs. Mathias Lievan Wednesday evening. There were present about 150 and everyone greatly enjoyed the sumptuous picnic supper under which the tables literally groaned.

A good program was enjoyed afterward including the game called "editing the paper," and a great deal of fun resulted, everyone interested contributing an item for the paper.

Mrs. Jesse Lautzenheiser and Mrs. Mathias Lievan were each presented with a gift as being the hardest workers in the cause for the Greenhouse Fund for the Soldiers. The gifts were lovely cut glasses baskets.

After the program a delightful evening was spent in games and music and the evening at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Lievan will long be remembered with pleasure by all present.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—
Overheated Fat.
If fat gets too hot before you are ready to use it, put in a handful of raw sliced potatoes. That will lower the temperature.

Sponge Cake.
The texture of angel or sponge cakes is improved if you divide them by pulling apart with two forks instead of using a knife.

Cemented China.
After you have cemented broken china or glass together, apply adhesive tape to hold the parts in place until the glue has dried thoroughly.

To Restore Color.
If the color of a fabric has been changed by any acid like lemon juice or vinegar, this may be restored by sponging with ammonia water and then with chloroform.

Testing Flour.
To test flour for breadmaking wet a small quantity with cold water and work into a rather stiff dough. If this dough becomes stiff and elastic the flour will make a good bread.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY.
SOUP BALLS.

Old world housekeepers have many recipes and ways of doing things that we who strive for efficiency and economy might well copy.

For instance, we find their soup much different from the sort of concoction we call soup.

The dumplings or "quenelles" the French or English put in their soups have great food value and are so different from our own sort of soup garnishings.

These little "meat balls" would be ideal in the luncheon soup, making little more than a salad of some sort necessary to complete the meal.

Liver Balls.

One-half pound liver, two eggs, one cup dried bread crumbs, one tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon pepper, few gratings lemon rind.

Parboil liver in boiling water. Drain and put through fine knife of food chopper. Add bread crumbs, flour, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Mix well and add eggs well beaten. If not moist enough to hold together add a little milk. Drop from teaspoon into boiling stock. Boil 20 minutes and serve in plates of soup.

The stock should be well seasoned and strained through cheesecloth. Cool and remove fat. Reheat and when boiling drop in liver balls.

Noodle Balls.
Two eggs, 2 tablespoons water ¼ teaspoon salt, flour. One cup raw chopped veal, ½ cup raw chopped pork, ½ cup raw chopped beef, one teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, one tablespoon minced parsley, one cup dried bread crumbs, two more eggs, milk.

Mix meat with bread crumbs, salt, pepper and parsley. Add eggs well beaten and enough milk to make quite moist. Mix thoroughly. Beat one or two eggs slightly with water. Add salt and flour to make a stiff dough. Knead in as much flour as possible and roll very thin on a floured mold-board. Cover with a towel and let stand half an hour. Cut in squares. Put a small spoonful of the meat mixture in the center of each square. Bring the corners together, lapping the edges. Dampen slightly to make stick and drop into boiling stock. Boil rapidly for half an hour. Serve in plates of soup.

Ham Balls.

One cup lean ham, ½ cup stale (not dried) bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, two-thirds cup milk, 1 egg (white), ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon ground cloves, few gratings lemon rind.

Cook bread and milk until smooth and paste like. Beat white of egg until stiff and dry and fold into cooked mixture. Put meat through finest knife of food chopper several times and then pound to a paste. Add with seasonings to mixture. Shape between two dessertspoons and drop into boiling stock. Reduce heat to prevent rapid bubbling and simmer 10 minutes. Serve in soup plates with soup.

CAPE HAS IMPORTANT PART IN NEW SPRING STYLES

The cape and dress costume is one of the striking features of spring styles.

The model shown is most pleasing—a straight-line frock with long sleeves and a turned-back collar. The cape is detachable and is made of the same material as the dress—a lightweight, fine-textured wool check such as will-cord or curleen.

How important the cape is in the new styles is shown by the second dress—an afternoon frock which uses the cape for sleeves, omitting all others. This short cape makes an exceedingly graceful line across the back of the dress and breaks slightly the severity of the perfectly straight silhouette of the frock.

Ham balls are especially delicious with a chicken or veal stock.

These rules can be reduced one-half and the garnishings made very small to serve with a dinner soup, if the hostess is in quest of "something different."

Tiny ham balls, not much larger than a marble, could be served in a cup of consommé for dinner or for a "high tea."

Think Future Gym Will Be Field House

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Jan. 25.—The old turn-of-the-century idea of a gymnasium with its trapeze, exercising apparatus and various other appurtenances has run its course in the opinion of John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the western conference.

The gymnasium of the future is to be a field house, similar to that completed at the University of Michigan at a cost of $600,000 with facilities to handle competitive sports indoors, he believes.

Increased interest in basketball, indoor track and field meets, swimming, wrestling, handball and other inside athletics has doomed the old form of gymnasium and made the spacious field house essential at Big Ten universities.

Big basketball crowds are forcing most of the conference colleges to consider enlarged facilities for handling them.

LOCAL POLITICS AS THEY LOOK JUST NOW.

With the primary election of April 8 approaching, local politicians are beginning to take a keener interest in the county, legislative and congressional tickets. A number of candidates are already in the ring and more of them are on the edge, slipping dangerously.

Of those seeking legislative honors we already have published the announcement of John P. Devine, who, for a number of terms has represented the democrats of this district in the lower house at Springfield to the entire satisfaction of that wing of the house and who has covered himself with glory as a party chieftain. The experience in this district of two years ago when the republican party attempted to freeze the minority candidate out by the nomination of three republicans would seem to give basis for the prediction that Representative Devine will go back to his seat in the house without much difficulty. The local attorney romped through the 1922 election like the proverbial bull in the china shop, spreading ruin and destruction in the republican ranks and leaving with his opponents on the republican side a wholesome respect for his vote getting ability.

Want Leech to Run.

The fight on the legislative ticket, if any,
will be for the two republican nominations.
Henry Allen, present incumbent from Whiteside County, will run again and will have no opposition at home, but there will probably be several starters in Lee County. Judge Wm. L. Leech of Amboy, judge of the State Court of Claims, Amboy City Attorney, Secretary of the Lee County Fair, and himself a former member of the legislature, is being urged to become a candidate for the lower house and is assured of bountiful support, not only at home but in the other two counties of the senatorial district. Judge Leech is well and favorably known and his past fine record, together with his popularity, wide acquaintance and vote getting ability, mark him as a very serious contender if he decides to enter the race.

Dixon may enter several candidates, among whom may be Major A. T. Tourtillott, a former member of the house with a fine record, who is being urged to again become a candidate; John H. Byers, present incumbent, and Attorney A. G. Harris, who is reported to be again preparing to enter the lists. Representative Byers is at present assisting in the national campaign work as aid to the general manager of the Coolidge campaign in the Chicago headquarters.

As DeKalb County still retains the senator, H. G. Wright, whose term does not expire for two years, there will probably be no candidate for the house from that county.

Would Go to Washington.

Lee County has no candidate for congress to succeed Hon. John C. McKenzie. Attorneys Tiffany of Freeport and Crowell of Oregon seem to be the leading candidates, although Whiteside may develop a favorite son in either Harry Waite of Prophetstown, former state's attorney; Myron Rogers, an attorney at Fulton, or Wm. E. Murray of Rock Falls, who has been Mr. McKenzie's secretary for a number of years and who may receive the backing of the Whiteside County organization.

County Offices.

There will be four county offices expiring this year and it will be necessary to nominate candidates for state's attorney, circuit clerk, county coroner and county surveyor.

Edwin S. Rosecrans, Circuit Clerk, will be a candidate for renomination, it is understood, and his splendid record in office makes him a hard man to beat. He will probably be unopposed.

There is possibility of a warm battle for the nomination for state's attorney, especially if the present incumbent, Mark C. Keller, does not run again. Mr. Keller has made no announcement of his plans. Even should he decide to have his name on the ballot there will probably be several contenders for this office so coveted by attorneys as an opportunity to display their ability and to build up a reputation. A number of local barristers give indications of being in a flir-tious mood should Lady Luck smile upon them in this respect.

Judge Samuel J. Whetston of Steward, County Coroner, will be a candidate to succeed himself and is standing upon his record of the utmost rigidity in the execution of the law and unprecedented care in the keeping of the records of his office. He will be opposed for the republican nomination by R.
M. Moore, well known resident of Dixon, and Dr. Banker, popular Franklin Grove physician.

Fred W. Leake, County Surveyor, has not announced his intentions as to running for re-election.

Democrats Will Campaign.

The Democrats of Lee County will have a full ticket to nominate in the April primaries, according to word from Democratic chieftains, but as yet no slate has been prepared and the personnel of the Democratic ticket has not been made public, if it has been determined.

Indications are that the county elections will be more seriously contended by the Democratic party in Lee this year than for some years past and an effort will be made to thereby capitalize the benefits of the intense state wide campaign that the Democratic Party in Illinois will wage for control of state offices.

The Supreme Court can tell whether the laws are Constitutional, but it can't tell whether they will work.—Associated Editors

NO. 8—A LEGGY RIDDLE

'Cept when Santa brings a treat

This was the next riddle the Riddle Lady asked in Riddle Land where Nancy and Nick were there.

"One foot that can't walk,
One mouth that can't talk,
One knee that comes and goes,
Room for five pink toes.

"One leg that can't stand,
Wears a collar—a stretchy band,
Funny ribs—up and down,
Trots all over town.

"Each morning eats a meal,
Stuffs like Paddy, mouth to heel,
That's all! Day or night,
Never eats another bite.

"'Cept when Santa brings a treat,
Gives him all he wants to eat,
Just at bedtime, too! A question,
If it gives him indigestion.

"Hasn't any sprinkler nose,
Don't know why it's called a hose,
Maybe 'cause it's black and round!
And never makes a sound!

"Johnny Dumpling went to bed,
Never took his off, 'tis said,
Must have dreamed he went a'walking
In his ————!"

"That's all!" said the Riddle Lady.
"What is it?"

THE URBANITE

BY BERTON BRAXLEY

Some may find "books
In running brooks"
Or country nooks
That shelter
The "flowing kind,"
But I find mine
Where crowds move helter-skelter.

The hum of bees,
The sighing trees
May serve to please
The poet;
But I prefer
The noise and stir
Of urban ways—you know it.

Let others dream
Of field and stream
And hills that gleam
With glamor,
Of birds that sing—
Give me the ring
And clang of steel and hammer.

The rush of feet
Upon the street,
The sounds that beat
Above it;
The "bitter strife
Of city life,"
Believe you me, I love it!

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

At last I am home again, dear little Marquise, and I really think the annoying pearls are off the books of my troubles at last.

I am going to send a check for six thousand dollars, which remained after Ruth paid the blackmailer, to Struble & Struble tomorrow.

Ruth made a very good deal with that waiter. I do not think I could ever have done it. She told me she really felt sorry for him.

"He broke down and cried, Leslie," she said, "when I gave him the money."

"I don't really want to take this, lady, but honestly if I don't my wife and baby will starve to death," he muttered brokenly.

You see, little Marquise, his wife is very ill and they have a new baby. He had been let out of the restaurant and did not know which way to turn when he picked up the pearl. He seemed to sense that there was something wrong about it all when Jack insisted that the pearls were not real, for having seen a great many around the necks of rich patrons at smart restaurants he knew that either Jack was lying or else I had lied to him.

Sometimes, little Marquise, I think we are headed toward a great upheaval. The poor are suspicious of us always, suspicious and envious, and we do not try to understand their points of view or sympathize with their troubles.

Ruth told me the man seemed to feel that, because I was wearing all those expensive jewels about my neck, I must be rolling in wealth.

He resented the fact that one woman could wear a string of beads worth thousands of dollars while another woman, and that woman his wife, was really suffering for food that would keep her body and soul together.

Perhaps now, little Marquise, you will understand this, as your fair head was among those that fell into the gory basket that the guillotine filed day after day.

"The man said to me," quoted Ruth, "that you, Leslie, were probably one of the unseeing, unthinking women that his grandfather used to talk about. The man was French and his grandfather lived in Paris during the Revolution."

I suppose the man thought I was another Marie Antoinette who would answer if someone said he had no bread. "If you can't get bread, why do you not eat cake?"

Probably you remember all that, little Marquise.

I expect I am meandering on like this because I do not want to come to the real thing I have got to tell you and that is the awful quarrel that Jack and I had the first night I got home from New York.

He was suspiciously polite to me until after dinner and then without

SAN FRANCISCO

BY A. H. FREDERICK

NEA Service Writer

San Francisco—Tardily, San Francisco is awakening to the fact that it is situated in California, "America's flower garden."

Progress of growth formerly absorbed San Francisco so completely that little advantage was taken of natural horticultural possibilities. With few exceptions, residence districts were built, block after block and mile after mile with houses and apartments crowding the sidewalks to complete exclusion of flower gardens or grass plots.

But now builders, school and societies are concentrating on undoing past mistakes so far as possible. New apartments and homes are provided with ample garden and lawn space, new districts are laid out so as to allow a maximum of beauty from nature's colorings, and schools and societies will plant wild flower seeds on hills and islands where they will most advantageously enhance the city's natural beauties.

Meantime the city's growth is not going unwatched.

Literature describing "sunny California" and its advantages, augmented by motion pictures and personal contact, is being bombarded into the east.

Such widespread advertising is not meeting with unanimous endorsement. Many fear an over-response and ensuing period of depression.

For, all advertising to the contrary notwithstanding, here too there are business failures, unemployment and mediocrity in fortune-building.

Periodically vigorous protests ap-

After Influenza—SCOTT'S EMULSION to build you up

pear against calling San Francisco, "Frisco."

Why, when "The Hub," "Manhattan," "The Windy City," etc., make no objection to their nicknames?

Why? Ask any Native Son.

San Francisco was named for St. Francis of Assisi, according to generally accepted records, and, declares San Franciscans, "naming a saint is at least incongruous."

After 12 years of banishment, the racing horse is back in California, assured of at least a temporary welcome.

Results of the first session of racing at Tanforan, a venture of about $1,000,000 on the ability of the horse to "come back" in a belated state, have warranted another season in the spring, declare backers.

Enthusiasm at the track and the capacity crowds of Sundays and holidays prove that the lure of the track is not entirely dependent upon wagers, they say. For Tanforan was betless, except for pocket wagers between friends. A social corps of detectives saw to that.

GANNON IS READY TO BEGIN INCOME TAX RETURN FILES

Has Received Forms for All Classes; Gives Important Data.

Income Tax Forms of all kinds have been received by Deputy Collector, M. J. Gannon, and the same may be had by calling at his office.

For the benefit of taxpayers, Mr. Gannon makes the following suggestions:—

Those Required to Make Returns
An income tax return must be filed by every citizen of the United States whether residing at home or abroad, and every person residing in the United States, though not a citizen thereof, whose gross income for the taxable period 1923 amounted to $5,000, or whose net income amounted to—

(1) $1,000 if single or if married and not living with husband or wife.

(2) $2,000 if married and living with husband or wife.

If the combined net income of husband, wife, and dependent minor children equalled or exceeded $2,000, or if the combined gross income of husband, wife and dependent minor children equalled or exceeded $5,000, all such income must be reported on a joint return, or on separate returns of husband and wife. If single and the net income, including that of dependent minors, if any, equalled or exceeded $1,000, or if the gross income equalled or exceeded $5,000, a return must be filed. A minor, however, having a net income of $1,000 or $2,000, according to the marital status, or a gross income of $5,000 must file a return.

Under each of the above conditions, a return must be filed even though no tax is due.

Income of (a) estates of decedents before final settlement, (b) trusts, whether created by will or deed, for unascertained persons or persons with contingent interests; or income held, or which under the terms of the will or trust may be held, for future distribution, is taxed to the fiduciary as a single person, except that from the income of a decedent's estate there may first be deducted an amount properly paid or credited to a beneficiary.

If the net income of a decedent from the beginning of the taxable period to the date of his death was at the rate of $1,000 if unmarried, or $2,000 if married and living with husband or wife, or if the gross income was at the rate of $5,000 or over, the executor or administrator shall file a return on Form 1040 or 1040A for such decedent.

Period to be Covered
Your return must be filed for the calendar year ending December 31, 1923, or for the fiscal year ending on the last day of any month other than December. The date on which the period covered by the return begins and ends, if other than a calendar year, must be plainly stated at the head of the return.

When and Where
If the return is for the calendar year 1923, the same should be filed with Deputy Collector, M. J. Gannon, so as to make his records complete.

Familiar Figure at Treas. Dept. is Dead

Washington, Jan. 25—Richard Green is dead. Age and illness have had their way with the proud frame and sturdy will of the negro who for more than 50 years had served faithfully a long line of treasury secretaries as their confidential messenger.

Appointed to the department in 1871, Green has traveled throughout the United States and in Europe and South America with various secretaries, and stationed outside the door of the treasury chief's office, his height and bearing have attracted the admiration of visitors.

VALUE OF FARM GARDEN SUBJECT OF STATE MEETING

Stressed in Lectures Before Farmers at Illinois University.

Urbana, Jan. 24.—The value of the farm vegetable garden was stressed by speakers in the horticulture section of the annual Farmers' Week at the University of Illinois here today in a series of lectures which described labor saving devices, sprays, and hot beds.

C. O. Randall, a member of the horticultural department staff of the University told his audience that the farm vegetable garden was real savings bank, as it provided a means of saving money that would otherwise go to the grocer. He declared that with proper care, the garden would not only provide the farmer with fresh vegetables throughout the growing season, but would also furnish him with better vegetables than he could buy.

"The right kind of a garden," he concluded, "is an aid to the health of the family, since vegetables are rich in vitamins and minor salts, both of which are essential to health."

C. M. Sayre of the college of agriculture of the university, advised the farmers to use dust sprayers in caring for their vegetable crops, and told of the success which had met experiments along this line. The dusts, he said, are easier to prepare and require less expensive equipment. Among the insects and diseases which he said could be controlled in this manner are: fruit rot, leaf spot, downy mildew, striped cucumber beetle, plant lice, thrips, cabbage worms, tomato worms and flea beetles.

Mr. Sayre also discussed the best methods for building and operating farm hotbeds.

J. W. Lloyd, professor of clerical

ture at the university, in discussing labor saving devices as applied to the farm garden, urged growers to apply cooperative methods to seed buying and hot bed propagation of plants for replanting.

He told his audience that the same care in cutting expenses, observed in producing farm crops, should be observed in the growing of vegetables and that labor saving devices would do much to reduce the expense of the garden. Horse tools, he said, should be used whenever possible and the garden should be planted in long rows to avoid unnecessary turns in cultivation.

"It takes no more labor to work rich land than it does poor land, and in addition rich land will produce more for the same amount of work," he said. "Proper fertilization, therefore, to make the land produce the biggest crops, reduces labor."

Examination Here for Rural Carrier

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Dixon on Feb. 23, to fill the position of rural carrier at Dixon and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from that post office. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard daily wagon route of 24 miles is $1800 per annum, with an additional $30 per mile per annum for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 24 miles. The salary on motor routes ranges from $2450 to $2600 per annum, according to length. Separate examinations for motor routes and wagon routes are no longer held. Appointments to both positions will be made from the same register. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of the post office where the vacancy exists and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Women will not be considered for rural carrier appointment unless they are the widows of U. S. soldiers, sailors, or marines, or the wives of U. S. soldiers, sailors, or marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty. Form 1977 and application blanks may be obtained from Austin Smith at the Dixon post office.

Tazewell County is After Law Breakers

Pekin, Ill.—Five hundred citizens of Tazewell county have started a drive to rid the county of law violators by organizing a law and order body with representatives in every part of the county. The league intends not only to capture violators of the law, but also to impress in every possible way the necessity for every citizen to serve on juries when called, according to E. E. Black, state's attorney.

Tear Bombs Part of Sheriff's Equipment

Moline, Ill.—Tear gas bombs to aid deputy sheriffs in breaking into barricaded rooms and buildings, and in breaking up riots, have been purchased by Rock Island county and are stored in the sheriff's office awaiting any emergency that may arise. The bombs are made of glass and are filled with a mixture of tear gas mustard gas which is said to cause temporary blindness and a severe smarting wherever the gas touches the skin.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lansing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir:
I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate soured on my stomach. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Bran. I tried it, as I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening. Yours sincerely, Frank Lansing,

1506 Jeffries Ave., Marion, Ind.

For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

Some time ago Mr. George was asked by an interviewer: "What is your favorite amusement?" The novelist replied: "Looming about a great city between midnight and dawn." His reason he gave as follows: "At night it is the unexpected happens. The few people about you would be in bed, were it not for some unusual cause: love, purpose of crime, agony of apprehension, or black poverty. Lonely under the stars, these people seek company; they willingly confide in you; and even enlist you in their schemes." Thus Mr. W. L. George has wandered hundreds of nights in London, Paris, Barcelona, New York, Chicago, etc. He has participated in several exciting adventures, which he relates here, altering the names and details for the sake of his strange companions of the night. Three of these adventures actually happened to Mr. George: three are slightly amended. They make up the picture of darkness and passion which stands behind the face of every great city, and represents a hidden world into which the daring can penetrate.

THE WAX LADY

UPON the north side of Hyde Park, against the railings, stand a few benches on which, when it is fine, elderly people take the air. Upon my wanderings I sometimes investigate this spot, for people who await the dawn in such places are sometimes interesting. Thus, one night, as I was loafing about my hunting ground, I perceived coming toward me a strangely formed shape, something rather low upon its legs.

LEANING TOWARD THE POLICEMAN, HE WHISPERED: "I'M GOING TO MARRY HER."

the upper part of which was bulky. As it came closer, I saw that it was a small man carrying a bundle. I went toward him, so as to benefit by the lights of Victoria Gaze, and saw that the bundle was a sack which the man with difficulty bore upon his right shoulder. Now people carrying sacks at night are usually engaged upon uninteresting removals, notably fleeing from the landlord, but the police are perpetually interested in them, because burglars are given to carrying the fruits of their trade.

Thus, just as the little man reached the gate, the policeman on duty stepped forward and stopped him.

"Hullo, mate," said the policeman, in a friendly tone, "what's that you've got? Is it heavy?"

"Weights about a ton," said the little man.

"Where are you going to on shanks' pony?"

"Acton,"

"That's a long way. What have you got in that sack, mate?"

"What's it got to do with you?" snarled the little man. He burst into shrill denunciations. Was this a free country? Couldn't a man go his own way without being interfered with by a lot of cops? Then he seemed to realize that he was making himself suspect. His tone changed, suddenly grew honeyed. He brought the sack down to the ground and remarked to the policeman: "After all, I don't mind your seeing what I've got, none your seeing what I've got, the cord; the sack fell down in folds. I took a step back, filled with horror; from the sack emerged the head and shoulders of a beautiful girl. The body was represented by a low wooden frame, over which canvas was tightly stretched.

"Oh," said the policeman, after a while, "barber's block? that's what it is, eh?" Then his professional suspicion turned to him: "What are you doing with it in the middle of the night, anyway?"

The little man looked about him with affected care. Leaning toward the policeman, he whispered: "I'm going to marry her."

"Now then," said the policeman, "none of your nonsense." Policemen dislike humor; it agitates their mind, interferes with its smooth working. "Where are you taking it?"

"Once before," said the little man, calmly, "I said Acton. For the second time I say Acton. It's still Acton. And if you want to know from what happy home I took this young lady, I'll tell you: that I bought her this afternoon at Bunley's Sale Rooms, price ten shillings, sale price, shop-soiled, but not as you'd notice it. And ain't the girl worth every penny of it?"

"What are you going to do with it?" asked the policeman, discomfited by the tone that only the gutters of great cities can lay upon the tongue.

"I told you I was going to marry her," said the little man, injuredly. "But I don't want to deceive an innocent child. I'm going to put her in my minder when I get to Acton. Fact is, I'm a hair-dresser. I'm going to put 'air on 'er, curls. She'll look that lovely!"

"All right," said the policeman, sullenly, "you can go on."

Women in Lincoln Case Being Sought

Aurora, Ill., Jan. 24.—The police today turned to women to get the truth in the Warren Lincoln case. Two of five whose names were found in his mail and a "reference book" after he had been arrested in connection with the disappearance of his wife Lina and her brother Byron Sheup came to Aurora this morning from Chicago. By turns they confronted Lincoln as police questioners went over different "confessions" he has made and called attention to discrepancies in his recitals and the stories the women tell. The names of the women were not revealed but it was learned one was a Mrs. Burgholz whose Lincoln met last summer in Detroit and later in Chicago. She is a stout blonde, between 35 and 40 years old. Her companion was a pretty dark haired girl of about 25.

BOY KILLED BY AUTO.

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 24.—Little John Foster, age 8, was killed; his grandfather, George Schuler was seriously injured and his aunt, Mrs. William Bybee all of Normal, narrowly escaped death when an automobile driven by Albert Geiger of Bloomington, struck them while they were crossing the street on their way home last evening. Mr. Geiger stated that the street lights were out and that he could not see the trio.

A German soldier must obtain permission from his commanding officer to marry.
